MEMORANDUM OPINION

Before Justices Goldstein, Breedlove, and Jackson
Opinion by Justice Jackson

Before the Court is relator's petition for writ of mandamus. Appellant seeks an order (1) compelling "the trial court and all respondents" to "cease all unlawful exercise of authority over Relator's person and liberty"; (2) declaring void various orders, motions, warrants, and other documents or actions; and (3) declaring that Relator was fully discharged from community supervision as of October 23, 2024, and is no longer subject to "probation, conditions, or supervision obligations whatsoever."

To establish a right to mandamus relief in a criminal case, the relator must show the trial court violated a ministerial duty and there is no adequate remedy at law. In re Paxton, 715 S.W.3d 398, 402 (Tex. App.—Dallas 2017, orig. proceeding). The ministerial act requirement is satisfied if the relator can show a clear right to the relief sought. Id. “A clear right to relief is shown when the facts and circumstances dictate but one rational decision ‘under unequivocal, well-settled (i.e., from extant statutory, constitutional, or case law sources), and clearly controlling legal principles.’” Id. (quoting In re State ex rel. Weeks, 391 S.W.3d 117, 122 (Tex. Crim. App. 2013) (orig. proceeding)). After reviewing relator’s petition and the record before us, we conclude that relator has failed to demonstrate entitlement to mandamus relief.

Accordingly, we deny relator’s petition for writ of mandamus. See TEX. R. APP. P. 52.8(a).
